

Glossary:Greenhouse gas emissions intensity

Statistics Explained

Greenhouse gas emissions intensity measures the amount of greenhouse gas emissions per economic activity, providing insights into the environmental efficiency of economic production. The data are presented by economic activities, as classified by Statistical classification of economic activities in the European Community, NACE Rev. 2. The economic parameters used to calculate the intensity-ratio of greenhouse gas emissions include gross value added, production output and employment.

Related concepts

- Greenhouse gas \(GHG\)

Statistical data

- Greenhouse gas emission accounts